

Terms of service

Current customer-release terms surface.

Educational materials only

AZRO Systems products are educational TradingView workflow materials. They do not provide individualized investment advice, financial planning, tax advice, legal advice, custody, brokerage, exchange execution, or portfolio management.

Customer responsibility

You are responsible for your own decisions, risk controls, execution, custody, taxes, account security, and compliance with any laws or platform rules that apply to you.

No guarantee

AZRO does not guarantee profits, accuracy, availability, future performance, market outcomes, alerts, fills, timing, or suitability for any individual user.

Access and updates

Product access, documentation, and setup instructions may be updated over time. Use the current customer release materials and recreate alerts when the current setup instructions require it.
