Educational use only

AZRO Systems products are educational TradingView workflow materials. They are not investment advice, financial advice, tax advice, legal advice, custody, brokerage, exchange execution, portfolio management, or a promise of outcome.

Key risks

Crypto assets can move rapidly and unpredictably. Liquidity, fees, spreads, execution quality, custody choices, taxes, regulatory changes, and user behavior can materially affect results.

Any model can be wrong, can lag, can degrade, and can fail in new regimes. Alerts, dashboards, labels, trackers, and examples should be treated as inputs inside your own written plan, not as guarantees.

No guarantees

Past performance, examples, simulations, backtests, benchmark comparisons, and historical event summaries are not guarantees of future results. You are responsible for your decisions, sizing, risk limits, and recordkeeping.

If you cannot use the workflow calmly, consistently, and within a written risk plan, do not rely on it.
